Agenda Item: To finalize the project topic

Discussion:

Exploration of various problems in different domains and brainstorming its possible solution.

PROBLEM 1:

Long queue at University Cafeteria during lunch hour, resulting in dissatisfaction among students regarding the service time of the caterers

Solution: Canteen Delivery System

Automated cashless ordering system, enabling the students to order food online from anywhere, beforehand. Also, notifying the cafeteria about the order placed and notifying the students when the item is ready.

PROBLEM 2:

During this pandemic everything was online and hence managing work, projects, lectures and assignment all together became difficult and which resulted in mismanagement of time and resources for students
Solution: Task Management System

Online Task management would be a to-do list. It means tracking tasks from beginning to end, delegating subtasks to teammates, and setting deadlines to make sure projects get done on time. Task management software, like Asana, empowers teams to work more productively and efficiently.

PROBLEM 3:

In this information age, where anything and everything is facilitated through online means and the value of physical books is depleting, and very few want to spend more on books when there are pdf and epub files easily available over the internet.

Solution: E-commerce website with exchange and lending/borrowing facility

To build an online bookstore that connects book readers locally so that they can borrow, lend or exchange books with each other. This store will allow users to not only get second-hand books at lower rates, but also the provision to exchange a book they want for a book they no longer want and/or borrow a book they want to read for a limited time in exchange for collateral or a minimum rent.

PROBLEM 4:

Health was a major concern during the pandemic. People throughout the world were trying to be fit and healthy. Moreover many times people are unable to access healthcare services due to some reason or the other.

Solution: Health Care App

An intelligent health prediction system can transform the way people take charge of their health while also connecting them to the nearest healthcare providers immediately. Here users can get instant healthcare advice and guidance online from licensed medical practitioners. The system will also provide the contact information of various medical specialists and practitioners with whom the patients can easily connect via the platform
PROBLEM 5:

With the cities expanding and endless roadlines, transportation is becoming an issue for the people who do not have their own personal transport. There are people who don't use their vehicle often and which increases the maintenance and service cost rather than the fuel cost.

Solution: E-commerce website for community car-rental service

To build an Online Car Rental Website. If someone needs a car for a short period of time, they can find one closest to their choice and range on here. Even if one's on a vacation in an unfamiliar place, this site will provide a trusted and convenient source car rental. And if someone has a car lying around that they don't use, they could profit off it by lending it

Conclusion:

Finalising : E-commerce website for community car-rental service
